Ms. Ginny's & Ms. Kelly's Toddler Class

We're enjoying our talk of Nursery Rhymes this month. We're reading and singing some of our favorites. Just a reminder that we have several birthdays we'll be celebrating this month.

Thursday, we'll have a Chick-Fil-A lunch to celebrate Emmett turning 2. Friday, Henry will provide a pizza lunch in honor of his 3rd birthday. Also we'll celebrate Ruby's 2nd birthday, Monday, with lunch as well. Thank you to all the parents for providing lunch for the class! You will not need to send lunchboxes on those days.

Our Winter Open House for Toddlers moving into Primary next year will be held this upcoming Monday, Feb. 24th from 5:30-6:30pm. Parents of Toddlers moving into Primary next year should plan to attend! Please RSVP to Ms. Jamie in the Office.

Ms. Shannon's, Ms. Kristin's, & Ms. LaKosta's Toddler Class

We have started our study of nursery rhymes. Yesterday we read the story of The Three Little Bears. They really enjoyed it. The big hit for yesterday, though, was working on the poem, Jack Be Nimble. We sang their names in the poem and each child got a turn to jump over my battery-operated candle stick.

It's time to sign up for Spring conferences. Can you believe it? This year is flying by! Here is the link to sign up: <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/10C0848ADAE2FA7F49-55183169-spring>

Please review what is allowed in lunch boxes. We are not allowed to serve grapes, hot dogs, carrots (unless cooked and soft), chocolates, sweets like cookies, or cheese sticks or cubes. Each lunch should represent the food groups. Food should also be cut into small bite-size pieces.

Ms. Angie's & Ms. Karabeth's Primary Class

Greece was amazing but it is so nice to be in a normal morning routine. The children are working beautifully and the classroom seems like the perfect place to be. Thanks to everyone for making Greece a successful country for us to visit.

A few reminders for the week:

- Please send in readers. If your child does not have a reader but should, please let me know.
- Lunches need to be healthy.
- If your child has something that they would love to share with the class, Fridays are great days for sharing.
- Please return schoolwork folders.

- Party/Sleepover fundraiser is Friday night. This fundraiser is for the adolescents/ secondary to make money for their trip to Argentina/ Ecuador. Guess who will be at this event! Yours truly!!!! I would love to see your children and third years are invited to spend the night.

We have had some nice weather days the last couple weeks; however, it is still winter time. Please make sure your child is properly dressed for the cold temperature as we will always make every effort to go outside for recess.

Please keep an eye open in an email next week for parent/teacher conference signups.
